

Eco-Mail is a solution for your entire company – not just your mailroom.

Digitizing your inbound physical mail revolutionizes your business, driving huge savings and productivity in every corner of your organization.

Decrease Costs

Digitizing inbound mail delivers hard-dollar savings of $1 or more – per piece.

Increase Responsiveness

Reduce customer response times from days to hours.

Maximize Transparency

One digitized document. Unlimited authorized viewers. Automated audit trails.

Optimize Efficiency

Digitized mail produces metrics that allow you to manage your entire business more efficiently.

Get Tighter Controls

End the compliance nightmares affiliated with physical mail.

Incoming paper mail is slowing down your company, probably more than you think. Here's why.

Physical mail is a burden that isn't going away anytime soon.

According to the US Postal Service, 27 billion pieces of paper B2B mail were delivered in 2016. All that mail represents millions of streamlining opportunities. And comparable bottom-line savings.

Most of the paper mail you receive is transactional.

80% of inbound paper mail is transactional – it requires action from operational workgroups. By digitizing it at its point of entry, everything moves faster, with more control, at lower cost, and seamlessly integrates with your existing workflows.

Conventional email can't solve the physical mail dilemma.

Why not solve the problem by sending scans through your regular email? Because group emails are incredibly difficult to manage and maintain controls. Eco-mail, unlike email, was specifically designed to solve this problem.

See the benefits of digital mail up and down your organization.

Capture mail in any location – transform physical to digital and process wherever it works best for you. The constraints of physical mail are gone, and the flow of digital data is instantaneous and actionable anywhere.

Eco-mail's benefits are strategic, not just tactical.

- Digitizing inbound mail isn't just a cost-saving tactic.
- It's a strategy that makes every aspect of your business run better.
- Digitizing mail yields metrics that help you better manage your organization.

Drive cost savings company-wide.

- Digitizing inbound mail delivers hard-dollar savings of $1 or more – per piece.
- Move work to the most efficient and affordable location.
- Centralized point-of-entry scanning saves 95% over downstream scanning.
- Shrink corporate services staff and real estate.

Integrate with your existing workflows.

- Eco-Mail doesn't change your departmental workflows – it integrates with them.
- Works equally well with in-house or outsourced mail services.
- Deploy it fast, see benefits quickly.

Improve customer response times.

- Reduce your company's response times from days to hours
- Exceed your customers' expectations, and elevate perceptions of your brand.

Optimize security and privacy.

- Paper mail can get lost, mishandled, or viewed by the wrong eyes.
- With Eco-Mail, only the intended recipients have access to a digital document.

Make every incoming document accountable.

- One digitized document. Unlimited viewers. New transparency and control.
- Every digitized document automatically builds a consistent audit trail.
- End the compliance nightmares affiliated with physical mail.

Reliable results from a flexible solution.

- Use in the way that works best for you – SaaS-based, or behind your firewall.
- One office or one thousand, Eco-Mail makes your business more efficient.